

ARCHITECT'S END TABLE - SMALL

From

Description

The original architects table. Much copied but not improved this piece came from the house of the great designer Dick Dumas in France. Now made by skilled craftsmen in England this sublime end or side table continues to be timeless. Its strength is in its simplicity. The design so well resolved over years that the corners of the glass are safely hidden behind the corner posts and the table is raised up on the most elegant castors either in brass or nickel. Use it by the sofa, by the bed, by the desk or even in the office with files atop. Whatever and wherever the Architects table will simply be absorbed by its surroundings. A classic that has been selling for over 30 years. As with all William Yeoward bespoke furniture the Architects End Table can be crafted in a variety of timbers from oak and chestnut through to mahogany and walnut.
